Extraordinary Phenomenon.

ONE OF THE GREATES'P NATURAL CUother part of the World.—BARTOLO, a boy of 9 years of age, enjeying, in every respect, perfect health, presents to the curious and to the scientific the most extraordinary case of bydrocephalus ever seen or heard of. This child's head, although regular in its features and natural functions, far surpasses, in size and bulk, any thing of the kind that can be conceived of in the human species. However, Bartolo was born in the Island of Porto Rico, and nothing was remarkable in his birth but his being twin-brother of a girl who died from a fall when two years eld, and who also had an enormous head, daily increasing in size, and exhibiting the same symptoms as that of her brother Bartolo.

This great natural curiosity will be exhibited to the public every day, from 10 o'clock, A. M., to half past 2, P. M., and every evening from 4½ to 10, at No. 3 Barclay street, near Astor's Hotel.
